

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Springtown, TX – BWI Technologies, a locally-owned and operated technology services firm, has opened for business. BWI provides the small and mid-sized business with affordable, reliable information-technology products and services, including onsite and remote technical support. BWI brings nearly 20 years of experience in various arenas of the information-technology industry, including the past 8 in high-level consultancies. “Our mission”, says owner & president Thomas J. “Butch” Like, Jr., “is to provide small businesses with a level of technical support that was previously unavailable to them. Either they had to work with a friend of a friend, or with a large Metroplex-based consultancy. Either way the results were less than desirable for the most part. We bring the experience and skill set that the large consultancies offer, at affordable prices that help keep the small businesses competitive. We want to help small business imbibe intelligence in their business operations and processes through the use of technology, so that they can have a competitive edge over those that operate traditionally.” BWI Technologies is a member of the Springtown Area Chamber of Commerce, and has offices located west of Springtown off State Highway 199.
